Editor's Note

It was at that stage in the academic calendar of APS Mumbai, when both teachers and students were eagerly waiting to leave the gruelling days of exams behind and start the new academic year, that a nation-wide lockdown was enforced upon us. The euphoria in getting unexpected holidays mellowed down when the reality of the Covid -19 situation sunk in. In the middle of face masks and social distancing, APS Mumbai plunged headlong into online classes. The stake holders in this new venture were many and each had different experiences to share. While the parents took great pains to ensure that their children attended classes smoothly, the teaching faculty bravely embraced the new situation. Overnight, they equipped themselves to become efficient online educators. The students, who were more tech savvy than all of us eased in comfortably into the new norm. From a teacher's point of view, I am thoroughly enjoying the opportunity that online teaching has given me to bring technology into learning. At the same time, I miss the chatter and the face to face discussions with my students. Whenever we resume normal classroom learning, let us take all the positive aspects that we have acquired during this lockdown period and integrate it with our regular teaching /learning methods and become more efficient and productive.

'APSM Insider', is an attempt from our part to bring to you a glimpse of all the activities that we, as a school have been doing during this 'online school' days. Trust that you will enjoy browsing through it. God bless!

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Brig Madanraj Pande
BGS, HQ MG&G Area
Chairman APS Mumbai

These are unprecedented times!

The academic calendar of the year 2020-21 will be singularly unique, once we look back a few years hence. As with the butterfly, adversity is necessary to build character in people and I am certain that the COVID -19 pandemic has metamorphosed each one of us in some way. This transformation has been best witnessed at our school.... where the teacher and the taught, both have been put through the most challenging litmus test and emerged triumphant.

APS Mumbai took concerned and timely cognizance of the challenge, taking teaching and learning beyond the realms of regular time and space. This journey would not have been possible without the unflinching support of the parents, sincerity of the students and commitment of the teachers and staff. My heartfelt gratitude and compliments to all of you!

This edition of the newsletter itself is a testimony to the tireless effort, tenacity and resilience of the Team to not let adversity dampen our spirits and a collective resolve to live up to our Motto "Truth Is God"!

May the school always reinforce the thought:-

"सा विद्या या विमुक्तये"

"That which liberates is real knowledge".

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Mrs Vipanjot Sehdeva Principal

Dear Students,

'Excellence is an effort to exceed a benchmark....'

The students of this School have ideas, dreams and aspirations burgeoning in their minds. During these challenging Pandemic times, overnight the School transitioned to 'Online Classes' and despite the challenges, has retained its inherent quality of ensuring that the 'Happiness Index' of the students remains high. During the entire Lockdown period, it was our endeavour to stay connected...connected with the students through various co-curricular activities, competitions, online assemblies, Book Club meetings etc and through this newsletter, we have suitably chronicled them and showcased the talent of our students.

A line to my dear students, "In every thought you think, every word you utter, every act you perform pour the best that is in you. There are times when we face tough situations but every challenge before us must be met with strength and faith in ourselves because challenges bring out the excellence in everyone. I want every student of this school to "Look upwards, think upwards and live upwards"".

Twinning marks: Several siblings do schools proud

Mumbai: In several schools, twins who are also classmates have done their institutes proud by bagging high scores.

At Army Public School, Colaba, brothers Pratham and Prakhar Sharma (in pic) scored 88.4% and 91.5%, respectively.

"We have always studied together. While we had been relaxed at the start of the year, we worked hard for four months before the exams," said the two. With interests in music, the two plan to pursue a career in sound engineering.

Opportunity to think creatively

With eye on technology-driven future, educators, parents and students讙ish for India's first-of-its-kind coding initiative for schoolchildren, HT Codeathon

Codeathon, is an Olympiad where students get to learn to code and where we can test our skills. We are using apps for everything we do on our phones, tablets, laptops etc. Here we are getting a chance to learn how to make an app and learn to code.

The experience of learning coding was a unique one. It definitely stirs up our imagination and abstract thinking. The well-explained content in the videos made assimilation easy. Coding is not only limited to writing programmes but helps in day-to-day lives by sharpening logical thinking and analytical ability. Thank you HT for this wonderful programme. Looking forward to continue my sojourn in coding.

'An excellent platform to identify the best paths for future explorations'

MUMBAI: In this corona pandemic, imagining a day without a 'smart device' is impossible.

Thus, education today must be smart as well as futuristic.

Codeathon acts as an excellent platform to identify the best paths for future explorations, unleash true potentials, instil spirit to compete and challenge oneself. Its serving as an avenue for children to be more efficient, focussed and sharp in their analysing abilities.

It is serving as an excellent platform for child-friendly contests, helping students to develop critical thinking and ability to solve problems in a logical and creative way.

Children are enjoying coding in a quite easy way and learning at their own pace. It motivates students to participate in the event and win prizes and bring recognition in addition to learning the coding at early a stage.

Not only are the students gainfully engaging themselves in learning a skill in these tough times but also preparing themselves for a future where technology and its usage will be the game changer.

SOUTHERN COMMAND PRINCIPALS' MEET 2020

The Principal, along with the Chairman of the School, Brig Madanraj Pande attended the virtual Southern Command Principals' Meet on 02/11/2020. The meet was hosted by APS Dehu Road. Lt Gen D S Ahuja, AVSM, COS Southern Command presided over the meeting.

Also present were Col S K Singh, OIC AWES MG&G Area & Lt Col Sunil, SO to Chairman APS Mumbai. The Principal, Mrs Vipanjot Sehdeva gave a comprehensive presentation on 'National Institute of Open Schooling - it's applicability to Army Public Schools.'

VIRTUAL MORNING ASSEMBLY

We, at APS Mumbai conduct morning assemblies which include prayer, inspiring thoughts, speeches, information on the latest happenings in India and abroad and the National Anthem. Morning assembly is important because it helps cultivate a sense of belonging towards the school and helps students respect and appreciate what others have done for them.

But with the COVID-19 pandemic, schools became virtual and online classes became the new normal. So, APS Mumbai, keeping with the spirit of new normal went online with its morning assembly. Every day at 7:45 am a small video clip of the morning assembly is uploaded to all the class groups. The video clip includes a small prayer, thought and news. In a week morning assembly is conducted thrice. On Monday, senior students present the assembly, on Wednesday, the house assembly and on Fridays the assembly is put up by the juniors.

Special online assemblies are conducted on important days like Republic Day, Independence Day, Earth Day, World Heritage Day, Hindi Diwas, International Literacy Day etc.

Students who participate and perform well are given certificates to encourage and motivate them as well as the other students.

The students of class 12 performing in the special video for teachers' day. It was truly an entertaining time for all the teachers.

In Fond Remembrance of...

We fondly remember Mr Kiran Chavan whose untimely demise left a huge vacuum in all our hearts. Mr Chavan was teaching Computer Science in Army Public School since 2002. A very simple, humble and sincere individual, he was the pillar and strength of the school.

Absolutely thorough with his subject, he was loved both by his students and colleagues. His pleasant personality and ever smiling face will be missed by the entire school. Yes indeed, he will be deeply missed!

Gandhi Jayanti Quiz Competition

Mahatma Gandhi is a symbol of peace and truth. Gandhian thoughts, principles, values and ideals encourage our students to always uphold truth and non-violence. In order to mark the celebration of the 150th Birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, we conducted an online quiz for the students of class 10. The students enthusiastically took part in the competition and the winners were given e-certificates.

Nature Club- Videography Contest

The Nature Club organized a videography Competition for the students of classes 7 to 11 on the topic- 'Birds in my Locality'. This competition gave the bird lovers an opportunity to explore their love for birds as well as bring out their videography skills.

Online Music Competition-An online music competition was organized by the Music club for classes 6th to 9th. The competitions were in the categories of Sugam Sangeet and Instrumental music.

Indeed, we consider this as a deep honour!

BOMBAY BOOKIES- ARMY PUBLIC SCHOOL MUMBAI

1. With the aim to kindle the love for books among the present digitalized youth, the Book Club - Bombay Bookies has been formed in the School. The Club has witnessed steady progress in terms of more n more students enrolling and participating. Every 3rd Saturday of the month is when the members meet. Under the able guidance of the club In-charges, The Bookies present book reviews.... Often accompanied with PowerPoint presentations and videos, these reviews inspire and motivate others to read more. Apart from book reviews, the members also observe important days like World Book Day and birthdays of renowned men of letters through activities like quizzes, bookmark designing, book cover designing, declamation on favourite literary character etc. The Bombay Bookies also organize educational visits to heritage places like the Asiatic society library and the Kitaabkhana where the members got acquainted with the process of manuscript preservation.
2. To make online teaching more interesting various activities are being conducted by dedicated teachers for children online. One such forum is Army Public School Mumbai's Book Club "Bombay Bookies" which meets online weekly wherein nominated group of students review books and then a discussion is held amongst the members. Appreciation certificates are given to the students presenting the best Reviews.
3. Reading, I've found, is one of the few things that can lift anyone out of oneself, eases apprehensiveness and relieves anyone from the sense of entrapment, especially in extended self-isolation during the Covid pandemic. Keeping this in mind, instead of cancelling or postponing monthly book club meeting, Bombay Bookies of Army Public School Mumbai, decided to meet every week online on "Google Meet." The general aim of Book Club meeting is to inculcate the habit of reading amongst the students. It includes discussion on 1. Contemporary work of fiction and non-fiction, 2. Work in translation 3. Poetry and classics etc. Generally held in the evenings; joined by The Principal, teachers and students, the meeting is informal and easy-going. Amidst lockdown, digital book club meeting has offered students an opportunity to connect, and combat isolation. It has also become a convenient platform for students to discuss current issues and support each other with book recommendations. Reading, for some students, is not just a mere hobby now, but an intrinsic part of their lives.
4. Under the altered circumstances both teachers and students of Army Public School Mumbai, have displayed tremendous resolve to adapt to the situation and make the best of what is available within the constraints of the pandemic.

IN-SERVICE TRAINING OF TEACHERS BY AWES-FDRC

Compiled by: Mrs Gopa Burman, PGT (Commerce)

1. Introduction. The Faculty Development and Research Centre (FDRC) under the aegis of the Army Welfare Education Society (AWES) is an interactive hub which empowers Educators from the Pre-school till the Higher Secondary level. This initiative provides a platform for a Pan-India level interaction between Educators of Army Public Schools. Upgradation of Teachers' Knowledge, skills in areas of curriculum, instruction, assessment and integration of technology are some of the core features of FDRC workshops.

2. Relevance in Present Scenario. The unprecedented nationwide lockdown on account of the COVID pandemic has altered the basic concept of classroom teaching. Educators today face a much greater challenge of teaching and making the subject topic interesting and simple for an audience which is not physically present. In such trying times, FDRC has conducted very informative and relevant workshops on various subjects. Owing to the limitation in conducting physical workshops, FDRC has ensured dissemination of knowledge to Educators through online webinars. These workshops have empowered the Educators with the basic tenets of Teaching. Application of the various techniques taught in these workshops would assist the Educators in imparting holistic education to the students.

3. Details of Workshops Conducted. Educators of APS Mumbai have participated in the following workshops conducted by FDRC for the duration Jun- Sep 2020:-
